Advertiſement.

TO a Publication of this Nature, undertaken according to uſual cuſtom and depending ſolely on the ſale of the Work for profit, any preface would be deemed unneceſſary—but in ſetting forth the preſent one, the Compiler would juſtly merit the charge of ingratitude, were he to omit acknowledging in high terms, the public ſpirit of the inhabitants, and their liberal patronage to him in the undertaking.

Tho' the expence incurred in lettering the names of the ſtreets, and numbering the houſes, has been conſiderable, yet the ſubſcriber hopes that the ſale of the Directory, with the generous ſupport already afforded him, will not only defray all charges, but compenſate him for his trouble.

The conſtant ingreſs of new inhabitants to this growing commercial town, with the frequent removals of ſeveral of the citizens, will require the publication of a Directory annually; but which in future will be ſupported without recurring to a ſubſcription.

The ſubſcriber is fully appriſed that in a publication like this, particularly as the Directory was nearly completed before the houſes were numbered, ſome errors may have been made, but from the care he has taken to have them avoided, he truſts they will, if any, be but few; for which he ſolicits, and doubts not, the indulgence of a generous Public.

C. H. Simmons.

CHARLES H. SIMMONS having, in a letter addreſſed to the court, dated the 24th inſtant, repreſented to them that he is about to compile and publiſh a Directory, in which he propoſes to deſignate the places of abode of the inhabitans of this borough, and ſolicits the countenance and patronage of the court, ſetting forth that it would greatly aid and facilitate the undertaking by being duly authoriſed to number the buildings---The court taking the ſame into conſideration this 27th day of January, DO by virtue of the authority veſted in them by the charter of the borough, authoriſe and allow the ſaid C. H. Simmons to proceed to enumerate the bulidings reſpectively within the corporation, by progreſſive numbers, and to affix the ſame thereto: and alſo to deſignate the ſtreets and public lanes.

And moreover, the court being deſirous that the moſt beneficial effects ſhould reſult to the citizens do direct that the foregoing order be tranſmitted to the common hall, with a requeſt to that honorable body, that they would make proviſion to defray the expence of employing an able and ſkilful ſurveyor, to take and return to this court, an accurate plan of this borough, that the ſame being duly approved and depoſited in the clerk's office, may become a part of the records, agreeably to an act of aſſembly.

OWING to the indiſpoſition of the printer, and ſome of his aſſiſtants, together with the increaſed ſize of the Directory, beyond what was at firſt contemplated, the Work has unavoidably been retarded to a much later time than it otherwiſe would have been: but as it has benefited by the Delay, itcarries its own Apology, in ſome meaſure, along with it; which a coſiderate Public will, it is hoped, admit.

The difficulty in procuring paper at the time the printing of the Directory was begun, and the anxiety of the Proprietor to have it finiſhed as ſoon as poſſible, obliged the printer to make uſe of ſuch as could be immediately had; but all poſſible pains have been taken to render the impreſſion as good as the quality of the paper would admit of.
